

GOV. SULZER URGES STATE REGULATION WALL STREET

Time Is Ripe, He Says, for State to Step in and Protect Public; Declares Abuses Must Be Discontinued

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—State supervision, regulation of the New York Stock exchange and other stock exchanges are advocated by Governor Sulzer in a message sent by him to the legislature tonight.

The time is ripe, in the governor's opinion, for the state to step in and "flagrant abuses, shifty schemes and clever combination to catch the unwary and to mislead the public." To effect this, he recommends the enactment of a group of laws, at least one of which shall provide imprisonment as a penalty for its violation.

There is, the governor says, should apply to certain practices which have been shown to exist by the Pujo committee of the house of representatives and other investigators.

"The testimony of some of the governors of the exchanges," Governor Sulzer says, "leaves no doubt in the minds of men of judgment that the exchanges have been either incapable or unwilling to devise measures that will effectively eradicate the evils."

State Must Supply Remedy.

"It now is the obvious duty of the state, it seems to me, to devise the remedies. If the state neglects its plain duty, it should find no fault if the federal government acts in the premises."

Among the measures which Governor Sulzer would have enacted into law are:

A law to distinguish clearly proper transactions of purchase and sale from those that are the result of combinations to raise or depress artificially the price of securities without regard to their true value, or legitimate supply and demand.

A law to prohibit brokers from selling for their own account the same stocks they have been ordered to buy for their customers at the time the customers' orders are executed.

A law clearly prohibiting insolvent brokers from continuing to buy and sell after they become insolvent.

A law making it a criminal offense to issue a statement or publish any advertisement as to the value of any stock or other security, or as to the financial condition of any corporation or company issuing or about to issue stock or securities, where any promise or prediction contained in such statement or advertisement is known to be false or to be not fairly justified by existing conditions.

Recommends Many Changes.

Governor Sulzer also recommends, but leaves to the legislature for decision, changes in existing laws and the enactment of new laws governing short sales, the hypothecation of securities, highest prices, usually under which the dealer charges the raising of call money rates to more than six per cent from the relations between exchanges and the consolidation of exchanges.

In his message he says in part:

"That evils requiring immediate remedy exist, is beyond dispute. These evils are easily discovered and readily stated, but the remedies to be applied require deliberate consideration and the most delicate adjustment to meet the situation, so as to benefit the public at large, and at the same time not disturb economic and industrial conditions."

It is demonstrated, that the members of the exchanges are aware of these conditions, but ignore them, manifesting a surprising indifference to the public interest, and to the reputation of the exchanges which are tarnished by these vicious operations."

Gambling Conceded.

"It now is conceded by some of the officials that a gambling taint is present in some of the transactions—a concession that confirms the general opinion. It has been established that transactions in their nature are, which make manipulations possible, are carried on without serious attempts at restraint."

"Abuses of the mechanisms, and violations of just and equitable principles of trading are treated leniently instead of being vigorously condemned."

"The testimony before a committee of the house of representatives further shows that in cases where members have been punished for extreme violations of the rules, it also indicates quite clearly that there are habitual violations, undisclosed because not investigated."

"The men who have been entrusted with the power to regulate the operations of these exchanges, sometimes have displayed inexcusable laxity in the discharge of their duty."

MRS. LONGSTREET, WIDOW GEN. SICKLES' FOE, COMES TO AID CIVIL WAR HERO

Says Ragged, Maimed Veterans of the South Will Respond to Veteran's Needs

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous Confederate general, came to the aid of her husband's Civil war foe, General S. B. Sikes, today, with an offer to raise $25,000 among the "ragged and maimed followers of Lee" to pay General Sikes' alleged debt to the state of New York.

General Sikes, today, with an offer to raise $25,000 among the "ragged and maimed followers of Lee" to pay General Sikes' alleged debt to the state of New York.

The sheriff addressed his letter to J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and the 400 members of the sheriff's panel, composed of wealthy New Yorkers.

General Sikes' Fifth Avenue home this afternoon.

Says It's All Right.

"Well, general," the sheriff greeted him, "it's a bit of formal business today. You know I have to serve you with these papers; I'm sorry I have to do so, but I have no choice."

"It is all right," General Sikes replied.

"The statement was made today by Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the Confederate general, after she had been informed by the sheriff of the state of New York that she was to be served with a writ of habeas corpus to remove her from the state of New York."

BRAND CARNEGIE TROUBLE MAKER

FAILED TO KEEP POOL AGREEMENTS

Suggested Price as Gentlemen Declares Witness Before Hearing

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Testimony in support of the contention of the steel trust that Andrew Carnegie was a trouble maker in the steel trade and that the Carnegie steel company was taken over by the United States steel corporation because of his refusal to abide by agreements, was heard today in the government suit to dissolve the corporation, under the Sherman anti-trust law.

It was given by Walter Scranton, former president of the Lackawanna Steel company and other independent concerns.

Mr. Scranton told of the various steel pools which existed in the steel trade before the corporation was organized, in which the Carnegie steel company invariably was a member.

He appeared in his testimony that Andrew Carnegie was responsible for the dissolution of most of the pools.

Did Andrew Carnegie's method of competition give rise to any feeling on the part of manufacturers against his continuance in the business? asked H. E. Colton, counsel for the government.

"Goodness to get Carnegie out!" There was a general feeling that it would be a good thing if Andrew Carnegie was out of the business, replied Mr. Scranton with a laugh.

In one instance, dating back to 1897, the Carnegie steel company, according to the witness, had an "inside agreement" with the Illinois Steel company, which did not come to the knowledge of the other members of the pool until the two companies quarreled.

Then the pool broke up. "Rats sold" said Mr. Scranton, "which was very low class."

"The dissolution of this pool, he said, led to a plan to organize the Empire Rail company which was to be a selling company for all the manufacturers, but the plan fell through."

"What individual was responsible for that?" asked Mr. Colton.

"Andrew Carnegie," he could not answer, but he said he was sure Carnegie was responsible.

Subsequently another rail pool was organized in which Charles M. Schwab represented the Carnegie company and Judge Elbert H. Gary, now chairman of the steel corporation, represented the Federal Steel company.

Prices Are Unchanged.

"We would meet and suggest a price as among gentlemen, but as often we did not sell at the price agreed upon," explained the witness. This was in 1900. The steel corporation was organized in 1901 and Mr. Colton wanted to know if by the acquisition of the Carnegie, the Federal and the National Steel companies, all consolidations in themselves, the steel corporation did not acquire "a monopoly of the rail capacity of the country sufficient to control the price of standard rails."

"I don't think they could control the price, if their suggestions would be favorably considered," said the witness.

Mr. Colton pointed to the fact that the steel corporation had not lowered its prices since its formation.

WOOL SCHEDULE IS BONE OF CONTENTION

One of Most Strenuous Fights on Revision of Tariff Yet Taken Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Protectionists and tariff revisionists kept up a running fight before the house ways and means committee today, which was continued until the manufacturers presented an almost unbroken alignment against reduction of duty on woolen cloth and ready-made clothing, though favoring reduction of the duty on raw wool.

It was the most strenuous fight made at this session of congress against the Democratic plan for revision of the duties in the coming session.

"Your schedule never has been out of the memory of living men," suggested Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania to A. M. Stafford of Cleveland. Mr. Stafford contended that the tariff could be reduced in the event the Democratic party chose to take the responsibility for a possible reduction of wages of the woolen mill employees.

Paid 8 Per Cent Dividends.

The witnesses testified to 8 per cent dividends from his mill last year, and Representative Harrison of New York suggested that it was rather unbecoming for him, in view of the big profits of the industry, to hold out a threat of wage reduction.

Through William Goldman of New York, its president, the National Association of Clothiers declared that while raw wool was desirable, a more revolutionary view of the wool was too revolutionary. He said the association endorsed the proposed Democratic rate of 20 per cent ad valorem on raw wool. The National Association of Manufacturers (Continued on Page Three.)

Reported That Turkey Gets Financial Backing From German Bank

ALLIES DRAFT NOTE THAT WILL BE TRANSMITTED TO THE PORT

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Turkish committee appointed by the British government to negotiate with the Turkish plenipotentiaries that they proposed to break off the peace negotiations. The note was not submitted to the British delegation, which held no meeting today.

Instead, the delegates gave prominence to the day of Saint Saba, the patron of the orthodox church.

The note is drafted in very brief. It reminds the Turks that the settlements of the peace conference have been suspended since January 1, without Turkey making any move toward their resumption.

It also reminds the Turks that the Turkish plenipotentiaries have refused to accept the terms of the peace conference.

No Objection Raised.

He announced that, according to the terms he had received, no objection would be raised by the war department and Chairman Ruste of the imperial committee to the proposed stand. Suffragist leaders expressed themselves as well pleased with the result of their fight.

The Wilson club of Trenton, N. J., is to have a post of honor in the parade as the original Wilson club, according to the original committee of officials. The Wilson club of Trenton, N. J., the president-elect's birthplace, was a contender for this honor, but it has been found that many of the members of the club are to march in the parade as members of military organizations of Virginia, and that the club will not enter the parade as an organization.

Many Governors to Attend.

Inaugural committee officials estimate that the governors of three states will attend the inauguration. The Mississippi also will be here.

General Wood, grand marshal of the inaugural parade, completed today the organization of his staff with the selection of two additional aides de camp. They are J. D. Bloodgood, commander of the department of the Potomac, G. A. R., and Jere A. Costello, commander of the department of the Columbia, United States Spanish American war veterans.

LOST—ARIZONA'S ELECTORAL VOTE

MESSANGER HAS FAILED TO SHOW UP

All Other States in Union Deliver Official Counts in Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—LOST, the electoral vote of Arizona, and its bearer, Elmer please send at once to the office of the vice president of the United States.

Senators and representatives of the baby state of Arizona sent broadcast tonight the foregoing notice when at 6 o'clock the time limit had expired for receiving returns from the national electoral college.

Webb, custodian of three perfectly good votes for Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall had failed to appear at the vice president's office in the capitol.

Arizona's patriots and legislators were much perplexed and disappointed, for, though no political upheaval would be caused should the three little votes never be found, they did not want missing from history's archives Arizona's first vote for chief executives of the nation.

Can't Find Elector.

For 24 hours before the vice president's office was closed for the night with every electoral vote except Arizona's on file, a systematic search of Washington hotels and clubs had been conducted in vain for Elmer Webb.

The duplicate set of Arizona's ballots, which were sent by mail are on hand, and it is probable that no penalty will be enforced if Webb arrives tomorrow. Meanwhile Arizona's representatives in congress are nervously awaiting developments.

INAUGURAL PLANS NOW UP TO TAFT

SUFFRAGE PARADE NOT YET SETTLED

Governors From Many States Will Be in Attendance, It Is Said

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The signature of President Taft is needed to the resolution of congress authorizing the inaugural committee to erect stands on public space, siting over huge fires or combustibles for special illumination and for other things and to engage from the war and navy departments to carry out its plan for the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of President-elect Wilson.

The resolution was adopted by the senate today and already has been approved by the house.

As adopted, the resolution contained no amendment as requested by a delegation of women suffrage advocates for the erection of a special stand south of the treasury department, to be issued in connection with the suffrage parade March 3.

Senator Stephen M. Chase of New York said he had been instructed to support the resolution with such an amendment unless satisfactory arrangements were made between the suffragists, the war department and the inauguration committee.

No Objection Raised.

He announced that, according to the terms he had received, no objection would be raised by the war department and Chairman Ruste of the imperial committee to the proposed stand. Suffragist leaders expressed themselves as well pleased with the result of their fight.

The Wilson club of Trenton, N. J., is to have a post of honor in the parade as the original Wilson club, according to the original committee of officials. The Wilson club of Trenton, N. CHANGE NEW JERSEY TRUST LEGISLATION

King Alfonso of Spain Sends Greetings to Gov. Wilson by Representative

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 27.—Chancellor Edwin Robert Walker and former Supreme Court Justice Van Sickle, who, at Governor Wilson's request, drew the seven bills introduced in the senate last week to amend state laws regulating corporations, conferred with the governor today and suggested some change in three of the bills.

Governor Wilson agreed to the changes which do not materially alter the bills, but supply an important omission in the measure which defines trusts and would forbid certain acts by corporations, firms and individuals.

Through a mistake in transcribing, provisions of the bill were not characterized as "anti-trust" measures.

Make Several Changes.

In a second bill which permits corporations to acquire in the collection of debts, the bonds, securities, and other evidence of indebtedness of non-competing corporations, the limitation on the collection of debts is modified to permit corporations to invest their surplus earnings in the same way.

By changes in a third bill which would permit the purchase by corporations of the property or stock only of other corporations doing a cognate business there is stricken out the limitation that purchase could be made only of the stock or property of corporations doing a manufacturing business. The change is made to prevent discrimination against companies doing a trading or selling business. The governor remained at the state house until late tonight while the legislature was in session.

BREAK HEADS AND DESTROY PROPERTY, SAY MILITANTS

London Is in Hands of Suffragette Army; 2,000 Policemen Required to Handle Crowds; Many Arrests Made

LONDON, Jan. 27.—England is on the brink of another campaign by the suffragettes in comparison with which former outbreaks of the militant women will appear insignificant. Two thousand policemen were engaged tonight in dispersing huge crowds gathered near the parliament buildings—sweepers were boarding window panes and excited women were making incendiary speeches in several halls.

The women believe that the police have played a carefully studied trick upon them.

The suffragettes held heard tonight. Mrs. Kimmeline Pankhurst and other leaders denounced both the charges and supporters of suffrage in the cabinet for their treachery.

Several women were arrested tonight, some of whom declined to give their names. One, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, was captured in St. Stephen's hall, leading to the house commons, where she was making a determined attack on a large painting.

Police Disperse Crowds.

The police dispersed a crowd in Trafalgar square, where a man and woman were trying to make speeches. The speakers, who resisted arrest, were arrested. The crowd, militant Mrs. Despard, was taken to the police station with six others.

"Deeds not words" was the motto displayed above the platform where Mrs. Pankhurst spoke. She asserted that the women would consider human life sacred, but would do as much damage to property as possible.

Some of her lieutenants failed to agree with her policy. Miss Annie Kenney, one of the most prominent of the militants, advocated the smashing of both property and heads. The executive committee of the National Union of Women's Suffrage societies adopted a resolution rejecting Mr. Asquith's offer of facilities for a private members' bill next session.

A number of speakers said the women had prepared a plan of action which for the present was secret, but which would surprise the world.

Many More for Outbreak.

The big crowds which poured toward Westminster afternoon and night were composed mostly of men who hoped to see an outbreak of the militant suffragettes. Policemen kept them moving and drove them down side streets. Everybody was good natured and there was much singing and cheering.

Practically the whole police force will be on duty all night. Strong guards are stationed at all the public buildings, and a special watch is being kept on non-residents and letter boxes.

Mrs. Pankhurst's denunciation of the government was fierce and bitter.

"The force of the reform bill is played out," she said. "Either those who framed the bill were ignorant of parliamentary procedure, and they were unfit to occupy positions of responsibility, or they were accomplices of the worst sort. It has been a mock battle all arranged. Mr. Harcourt and Mr. Lloyd-George were seen going arm in arm into a music hall Saturday. Can you imagine them saying: 'Well, now that we have ditched the women, let's forget about it and go see the cinematograph.'"

The women had lost their touching faith in politicians and were likely to

BILL TO REGULATE HOURS FOR STREET CAR EMPLOYEES PRECIPITATES CONFLICT

House Controversy Over Rules Passes Without Any Serious Conflict

By WALTER LAWSON WILDER.

DENVER, January 27.—Representative Kavanagh's bill to regulate the hours of employment of street car conductors and motormen is being made the center of a controversy that is of interest to three cities. A delegation representing the employees of the Pueblo Traction company is in the city today, seeking to secure an amendment of the bill so that the men may be able to make their full 10 hours daily, even when they have to exceed that limit in order to complete their runs. They also ask that men be allowed to work overtime on special occasions when extra service is needed. The Denver tramway employees are divided in their opinion of the bill. About 100 of the older men who have the choice of preference runs by reason of seniority in service are opposing the measure, while the younger employees are favorable to the proposition.

As predicted, the house controversy over rules has passed without a serious conflict. Speaker Shinn in the house this morning made a statement in which he explained the rules and declared that henceforth bills reported out of committee would be placed upon the calendar without being delayed by the committee on rules. This arrangement is satisfactory to many of the members who were agitating against the speaker and the committee, and for the present at least the controversy is stilled.

The principal event in the senate today was the discussion of the refusal of the supreme court to give a decision upon the pending controversy over the office of lieutenant governor. Senator Cornforth introduced a resolution withdrawing the question that had been presented to the court, explaining that he did this in accordance with the request of the court embodied in its decision. Senator Garman defended the right of the senate to declare that a solemn occasion exists requiring the decision of the supreme court.

Senator Bullis moved that the matter be referred to the judiciary committee.

Senator Tierney offered a substitute resolution that the senate declare that a solemn occasion exists and again asks the court for its opinion. After some further discussion, the motion to refer to the committee on judiciary was passed by a vote of 15 to 15. The voting in the senate were: Blakes, Carter, Cornforth, Garman, Hayden, Hacker, Lines, Morris, Parrish, Reynolds, W. C. Robinson, E. C. Tamm, Tierney, Taylor, Williams. Absent: Barlow, Van Tilbort.

The bills introduced in the senate this morning include one authorizing the collection and publication of agricultural statistics by county assessors, according to the method now in use in Weld county; a bill for the employment of county agriculturalists and the maintenance of county agricultural experiment stations; a bill forbidding objectionable newspaper advertisements; and a bill (Continued on Page Three.)

STAGE TALENT FROM MADRID: From the Panama Journal.

Word comes from Madrid that two companies widely known here in Panama, of Spanish theatrical performers, are being organized there to visit the United States next year. One will give a series of the most famous works of the ancient and modern Spanish playwrights, and the other will play modern comedy-opera and Spanish musical comedy.

The first company will be under the direction of Mr. Mario Guerrero and her husband, Fernando Diaz de Mendoza, who, in private life, is a grandee of Spain, bearing the titles of Marquis of Fontanar and Count of Palenque. Both played here in Panama lately.

The second company will be composed of the best musical comedy artists, including Julia Fons and Luisa Villa, who has an exquisite voice, and recently returned from a highly successful tour in Mexico. She is now drawing all Madrid to see "The Dollar Princess." With this company will be a lot of pretty and graceful Spanish girls and specially-chosen dancers.

American chewing gum is now being sold in all large cities in Germany.

The Theater

"GYPSY LOVE"

Of the thirty-odd first-class attractions controlled by A. H. Woods, he considers "Gypsy Love" the most famous comic opera, his most important Franz Lehár, who is responsible for the scores of "The Merry Widow" and "The Count of Luxembourg," wrote the music of the big A. H. Woods musical offering. The Lehár work has recorded one of the biggest hits in London, his own theater after a short tour of the principal cities. "Gypsy Love" will be given at the Grand Opera house tomorrow night with the original and only company playing the opera.

It is said by critics that the music of "Gypsy Love" is even more tuneful than that of "The Merry Widow," and its beautiful waltzes are already being played in many Colorado Springs homes. The piece was produced in New York last season, and it has been

tion of the New theater, New York, is assured, together with practically the same cast of 100 mature actors and trained boys and girls that was seen in New York last year. The management specially brought over from London the clever boy, Burford Hampden, to play the part of the lad Tytil. An idea of Master Hampden's quality may be gained from the fact that he was the P. in Sir Herbert Beerhohn Tress's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." With him in the companion girlish role of Mytil, is associated little Edith Kelly. The skilled animal actors, Messrs. Harry Lambert and Cecil Yent, will be seen as those funny creatures, the dog Tolo and the cat Tytil. And the only, but good-natured Fairy (Alice Butler), Broad (John Sutherland), Sugar (George Sylvester), Fire (Angelo Romeo), Water (Gwendolyn Valentine), Milk (Margaret Miller), Time (Dore Davidson), Night (Abba Cortright), with what "Oh's" and "A's" in the audience, see the "kisses" in the audience, and lightness assume bodily shape come to life and play their several grotesque parts in this fairy drama. But there are even greater wonders than this in store. For the children as yet unborn, as well as the little folk out of premarriage, who dwell only in the Land of Memory, appear in "The Blue Bird," and so do the Hours who come dancing out of Grandfather's clock, the Mist Maidens, the Stars in the Heaven, the Little Happiness and the Blue Children. All the joys of old-fashioned pantomime are revived again in this gorgeous holiday piece, with its almost innumerable dissolving views and tableaux, its riot of colorful effects, its music and its dance. Yet, after all, "The Blue Bird" is not merely or principally a kid's play; behind the story is a deeper symbolism of life to be grasped only by the grownups, whilst the children are enjoying the obvious fun and spectacle. There will be a 2:30 matinee, Saturday, and the engagement will close Saturday night, February 1.

Madame Pasquall, nee James, was born in Boston and is a member of that chapter of the "Daughters of the American Revolution." Although she has achieved great success in the principal cities of Europe, Mexico and Cuba, her entire musical education was received in New York city.

When Marcela Sembrich said farewell to the operatic stage, Mme. de Pasquall was chosen to sing the roles which this great artist had interpreted for a quarter of a century. This was not an easy task, but Mme. de Pasquall's attainments were such as to enable her to sing in rapid succession, to the entire satisfaction and delight of the public, such roles as Violetta in "Traviata," Lucia in "Lucia di Lamermoor," Susanna in "Nozze di Figaro," Rosina in "Barber of Seville," Norina in "Don Pasquale," Nedda in "Pagliacci," etc.

Mme. de Pasquall's voice possesses rare beauty of tone, and she interprets her songs with great finesse and expression. Aside from her success on the operatic stage, she has become popular as a concert artist.

The concert tour of this brilliant coloratura soprano, during the season of 1910 and 1911 was a veritable triumph. It began in October on the Pacific coast, included a trip to Cuba to appear at a great patriotic concert at Havana, and ended in Seattle, Wash., in August, where Mme. de Pasquall was the leading soprano soloist of the Northern Pacific passenger.

This season she will again sing at the Metropolitan Opera house in New York, and will also be heard in Colorado Springs, for one night only, at the Burns, Tuesday night.

We repeat a few of hundreds of press notices.

Madame Pasquall last night was in superb voice. She was also charming in manner, her smiling personality winning her houseful of friends. She sang the aria from "Lucia" with all the luxuriant Latin passion that Donizetti so ravishingly displays. In the purity of her high tones she suggested Patti of our boyhood days. And who, by the way, is better fitted to be the acknowledged successor of "Patti-at-her-best" than this gifted American woman with Latin taste, education and temperament? Her rippling top notes are as delicately uttered, her methods as gracefully artistic, her charm of manner as decided as those of the famous Spaniard. She sang most deliciously "Thou Charming Bird," by David, and responded to cordial recalls with the most seeming gladness and satisfaction. Her sweet, liquid notes were heard throughout with general and unqualified pleasure, and when her final aria was given the most spontaneous and enthusiastic applause of the festive evening was hers.—F. W. W. Post, Denver, Colo.

Mme. Pasquall was the star at the evening concert. She made an immediate and complete conquest, created great enthusiasm and aroused demonstrative admiration which almost warranted the use of that much-frayed and much-abused word "ovation." One can scarcely write calmly or dispassionately of the art and voice of Mme. Pasquall while still under their magic spell. She stands before the public a claimant of the mantle of Mme. Sembrich.—Free Press, Detroit, Mich.

Bernice de Pasquall sang her "Bird," clear and sweet like a bird, with a charm of expression that was a constant delight. As cadenzas trilled out and her sweet, round tones swelled up and diminished, the audience was thrilled with the wonderful power of a wonderful woman.—Post-Intelligencer, Seattle.

The music-loving public will be pleased to learn that the accompanist for Mme. de Pasquall is Mr. Lawrence K. Whipp.

Phyllis Partington, the captivating California prima donna, who created the part of Zerkia, is one of the few prima donnas who can sing and act. Both Miss Partington and Mr. Albro will go to London in April to participate in the English performance of "Gypsy Love."

When George Edwardes produced "Gypsy Love" at Daly's theater, London, A. H. Woods sent his prima donna, Phyllis Partington, to the other side to see a performance of the Lehár comic opera. The English version is different from the one that is being given in America, and it was Manager Woods' idea to substitute that version if Miss Partington thought it better. The gifted singer returned home and advised Mr. Woods to stick to the original American version. While the version presented in London was very good for the English, the American version was best for Americans.

"THE BLUE BIRD"

Next Friday night brings to the Grand Opera house for three performances the spectacular fairy drama of Maurice Maeterlinck, that has pleased the "kiddies" and grownups of many lands. "The Blue Bird" embodies the spirit of youth. All young folks—whatever the creed—calendar may say of their ages eagerly await its coming, and will join with keen fidelity in the quest for happiness that is the principal motive. They will travel with the children, Tytil and Mytil, to the fairy Berquin's palace, back into the Land of Memory, and the Kingdom of the Past, then forward into the Kingdom of the Future, through the world Palace of Night, and finally, to be hoped, attain the Land of Happiness. These steps in the children's quest are presented in a series of sumptuous spectacles, on which the art of the stage-director, the scene painter, the electrician and the costumer has been fairly exhausted. The entire original production of the operatic stage, Mme. de Pasquall was chosen to sing the roles which this great artist had interpreted for a quarter of a century. This was not an easy task, but Mme. de Pasquall's attainments were such as to enable her to sing in rapid succession, to the entire satisfaction and delight of the public, such roles as Violetta in "Traviata," Lucia in "Lucia di Lamermoor," Susanna in "Nozze di Figaro," Rosina in "Barber of Seville," Norina in "Don Pasquale," Nedda in "Pagliacci," etc.

Mme. de Pasquall's voice possesses rare beauty of tone, and she interprets her songs with great finesse and expression. Aside from her success on the operatic stage, she has become popular as a concert artist.

The concert tour of this brilliant coloratura soprano, during the season of 1910 and 1911 was a veritable triumph. It began in October on the Pacific coast, included a trip to Cuba to appear at a great patriotic concert at Havana, and ended in Seattle, Wash., in August, where Mme. de Pasquall was the leading soprano soloist of the Northern Pacific passenger.

This season she will again sing at the Metropolitan Opera house in New York, and will also be heard in Colorado Springs, for one night only, at the Burns, Tuesday night.

We repeat a few of hundreds of press notices.

Madame Pasquall last night was in superb voice. She was also charming in manner, her smiling personality winning her houseful of friends. She sang the aria from "Lucia" with all the luxuriant Latin passion that Donizetti so ravishingly displays. In the purity of her high tones she suggested Patti of our boyhood days. And who, by the way, is better fitted to be the acknowledged successor of "Patti-at-her-best" than this gifted American woman with Latin taste, education and temperament? Her rippling top notes are as delicately uttered, her methods as gracefully artistic, her charm of manner as decided as those of the famous Spaniard. She sang most deliciously "Thou Charming Bird," by David, and responded to cordial recalls with the most seeming gladness and satisfaction. Her sweet, liquid notes were heard throughout with general and unqualified pleasure, and when her final aria was given the most spontaneous and enthusiastic applause of the festive evening was hers.—F. W. W. Post, Denver, Colo.

Mme. Pasquall was the star at the evening concert. She made an immediate and complete conquest, created great enthusiasm and aroused demonstrative admiration which almost warranted the use of that much-frayed and much-abused word "ovation." One can scarcely write calmly or dispassionately of the art and voice of Mme. Pasquall while still under their magic spell. She stands before the public a claimant of the mantle of Mme. Sembrich.—Free Press, Detroit, Mich.

Bernice de Pasquall sang her "Bird," clear and sweet like a bird, with a charm of expression that was a constant delight. As cadenzas trilled out and her sweet, round tones swelled up and diminished, the audience was thrilled with the wonderful power of a wonderful woman.—Post-Intelligencer, Seattle.

The music-loving public will be pleased to learn that the accompanist for Mme. de Pasquall is Mr. Lawrence K. Whipp.

ABOUT DONALD BRIAN

Probably the season's most notable musical comedy engagement will be that of Donald Brian, under the management of Charles Frohman, at the Grand Opera house, Monday, February 3.

Donald Brian was born in St. John, Newfoundland, and is yet in his twenties. His father died when he was but 7 years old, and, having left the family none too well provided for, his mother moved to Boston, where she has numerous relatives. Brian was the member of an old-fashioned, and thereby large, family. A son of a well-to-do family, he had to turn his back on school books, he had to turn his back on school books, he had to turn his back on school books.

Brian worked first as a cash boy in a Boston department store, and later escaped to become a mechanic. He was taught singing as a boy member of the choir of the famous Gate of Heaven church, in the Hub. He also developed into an unusually good athlete, and was a noted mile runner with the old Pastime Athletic club in the Massachusetts capital. This athletic training has stood him well for him in his career as a stage performer, for Brian possesses a degree of endurance that few stage players can boast.

His first experience in the theatrical game came when he joined the Boston City quartet. Later he trouped with an important aggregation in the presentation of a piece called "Shannon of the Sixth." Later he attracted the attention of George M. Cohan, and was a member of the original company playing "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway." It was while in this piece that he was observed by Henry W. Savage and tented with the role of Prince Danilo in "The Merry Widow." Brian became famous in a night through his marvelous dancing in this highly successful piece. After three years with "The Merry Widow," he was featured by Charles Frohman in the New York production of "The Dollar Princess," and two years ago was elevated to stardom and exploited in "The Streets of Lhasa," a romantic opera in three acts, and the book and lyrics by those Viennese masters, Leo Stein and Dr. A. M. Willner. The music, said to be the best imported in years, is by Leo Fall, and contains

Time Is Ripe, He Says, for State to Step in and Protect Public; Declares Abuses Must Be Discontinued

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—State supervision, regulation of the New York Stock exchange and other stock exchanges are advocated by Governor Sulzer in a message sent by him to the legislature tonight.

The time is ripe, in the governor's opinion, for the state to step in and end "flagrant abuses, selfish schemes and clever combinations to catch the unwary and to mislead the public." To effect this, he recommends the enactment of a group of laws, at least one of which shall provide imprisonment as a penalty for its violation. These laws, the governor says, should apply to certain practices which have been shown to exist by the Fisco committee of the house of representatives and other investigators.

"The testimony of some of the governors of the exchanges," Governor Sulzer says, "leaves no doubt in the minds of men of judgment that the exchanges have been either incapable or unwilling to devise measures that will effectively eradicate the evils."

State Must Supply Remedy.
"It now is the obvious duty of the state, it seems to me, to devise the remedies. If the state neglects to do its plain duty, it should find no fault with the federal government acts in the premises."

Among the measures which Governor Sulzer would have enacted into law are:

A law to distinguish clearly proper transactions of purchase and sale from those that are the result of combinations to raise or depress artificially the price of securities without regard to their true value, or legitimate supply and demand.

POLICE SPOIL PLAN OF BRIDAL COUPLE

Young People Are Arrested for Investigation on Eve of Wedding

The wedding of George Hoops, a 25-year-old, and Miss Ella Hawk, 23, has been interrupted by the police and both the prospective bride and groom are in jail this morning instead of on their way to the altar. Hoops lacked the money to procure a license and pay the preacher, to say nothing of the customary wedding feast, it is said, and so he devised a plan that instead of overcoming his financial difficulty by increasing his embarrassment by landing him and his bride in the hands of the police. Hoops is accused of securing on credit goods amounting to about $20 from D. W. Harris, 492 South Conchos street, and then attempting to sell the assortment of shirts and trousers to E. H. Siegel, who conducts a second-hand store on East Huerta street. Instead of buying the articles, Siegel notified the police department and Hoops was arrested. A few hours later the bride-to-be was arrested and is being held for investigation. Hoops' brother is in the employ of the Short Line, and upon his good standing at the Harris store, he was able to get credit.

MRS. LONGSTREET, WIDOW GEN. SICKLES' Foe, COMES TO AID CIVIL WAR HERO

Says Ragged, Maimed Veterans of the South Will Respond to Veteran's Needs

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous Confederate general, came to the aid of her husband's Civil war foe, General S. E. Sickles, today, with an offer to raise $25,000 among the "ragged and maimed followers of Lee" to pay General Sickles' alleged debt to the state of New York. Sheriff Harbinger, who arrested General Sickles today in the civil suit brought by the state to recover the money, also indicted a letter to many of the richest men in New York asking them to aid the aged veteran.

The sheriff addressed his letter to J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and the 150 members of the "millionaires' club," composed of wealthy New Yorkers.

Sheriff Harbinger dealt severely with his prisoner. Instead of serving the order of arrest this morning, he waited until General Sickles' lawyer, Daniel P. Hayes, had arranged with a surety company for a $50,000 bond for the veteran's freedom. Mr. Hayes brought it to the sheriff's office and they went to General Sickles' Fifth avenue home this afternoon.

Says It's All Right.
"Well, general," the sheriff greeted him, "it's a bit of formal business today. You know I have to serve you with these papers. I'm sorry I have to do so, but I have no choice."

"It is all right," General Sickles re-

BRAND CARNEGIE MAY RESUME HOSTILITIES IN WEEK

FAILED TO KEEP POOL AGREEMENTS

Suggested Price as Gentlemen. Allies Draft Note That Will Be Transmitted to the Porte

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Testimony in support of the contention that Andrew Carnegie was a trouble maker in the steel trade and that the Carnegie Steel company was taken over by the United States steel corporation because of his refusal to abide by agreements was heard today in the government suit to dissolve the corporation, under the Sherman anti-trust law. It was given by Walter Scranton, former president of the Lackawanna Steel company and other independent concerns.

Mr. Scranton told of the Carnegie steel pool which existed in the steel trade before the corporation was organized, in which the Carnegie Steel company invariably was a member. It appeared from his testimony that Andrew Carnegie was responsible for the dissolution of most of the pools.

Did Andrew Carnegie's method of competition give rise to any feeling on the part of manufacturers against his continuance in the business? asked J. E. Colton, counsel for the government.

"Godsend to Get Carnegie Out."
"There was a general feeling that it would be a godsend if Andrew Carnegie was out of the business," replied Mr. Scranton with a laugh.

In one instance, getting back to the Carnegie Steel company, according to the testimony, was an "inside agreement" with the Illinois Steel company, which did not come to the knowledge of the other members of the pool until the two companies quarreled. Then the pool broke up. "Rails sold down to $14 a ton after the break," said Mr. Scranton, "which was way below cost."

The dissolution of this pool, he said, led to a plan to organize the Empire Rail company which was to be a selling company for all the manufacturers, but the plan fell through.

"What individual was responsible for that?" asked Mr. Colton.

"Andrew Carnegie," he couldn't argue with the witness.

Subsequently another rail pool was organized in which Charles M. Schwab represented the Carnegie company and Judge Elbert H. Gary, now chairman of the steel corporation, represented the Federal Steel company.

Prices Are Unchanged.
"We would meet and suggest a price as among gentlemen, but as often we didn't sell at the price proposed upon explained the witness. This was in 1900. The steel corporation was organized in 1901 and Mr. Colton wanted to know if by the acquiescence of the Carnegie, the Federal and the National Steel companies, all consolidations in themselves, the steel corporation did not acquire a percentage of the rail capacity of the company sufficient to control the price of standard rails."

"I don't think they could control the price," if their suggestions would be favorably considered," said the witness.

Mr. Colton pointed to the fact that

WOOL SCHFRULE IS BONE OF CONTENTION

One of Most Strenuous Fights on Revision of Tariff Yet Taken Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Protectionists and tariff revisionists kept up a running fight before the house ways and means committee today, which was continued tonight. The wool tariff was the issue and the manufacturers presented an almost unbroken alignment against reduction of duty on woolen cloth and ready-made clothing, though favoring reduction of the duty on raw wool.

It was the most strenuous fight made at this session of congress against the Democratic plan for revision of the duties. In the coming extra session.

"Your schedule never has been out in the memory of living men," suggested Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania to A. M. Stafford of Cleveland. Mr. Stafford contended that the tariff could be reduced in the event the Democratic party chose to take the responsibility for a possible reduction of wages of the woolen mill employees.

Paid 8 Per Cent Dividends.
The witnesses testified to 8 per cent dividends from his will last year, and Representative Harrison of New York suggested that it was rather unbecoming for him, in view of the big profits of the industry, to hold out a threat of wage reduction.

Through William Goldman of New York, its president, the National Association of Clothiers declared that, while free wool was desirable, a more revolutionary. He said the association endorsed the proposed Democratic rate of 20 per cent ad valorem on raw wool. The National Association of Manu-

SUFFRAGE PARADE NOT YET SETTLED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The plan for the inauguration of President Taft, which the militant women will appear insignificant. Two thousand policemen were engaged tonight in dispersing crowds gathered near the parliament buildings. Shopkeepers were boarding up windows and carrying away their goods. (Continued on Page Three.)

The women believe that the politicians have devised a carefully studied trick to win.

The suffragettes held heated meetings tonight. Miss Lavinia Parker and other leaders denounced both the emergency and supporters of suffrage in their address for their support.

No Objection Raised.
He announced that, according to letters he had received, no objection would be raised by the war department and chairman Eugene of the inaugural committee to the proposed stand. Suffragist leaders expressed themselves as well pleased with the result of their fight.

The Wilson club of Trenton, N. J., is to have a post of honor in the parade as the "original Wilson club," according to inaugural committee officials. The Wilson club of Staunton, Va., the president-elect's birthplace, was a contender for this honor but it has been found that many of the members of the club are to march in the parade as members of military organizations of Virginia, and that the club will not enter the parade as an organization.

Many Governors to Attend.
Inaugural committee officials said today that the governors of three states, including the governor of Mississippi, will attend the inauguration and participate in the parade, and that governors of one-half of the states west of the Mississippi also will be here.

General Wood, grand marshal of the inaugural parade, completed today the organization of his staff with the selection of two additional aides de camp. They are J. D. Bloodgood, commander of the department of the Potomac, G. A. E. and Jere A. Correll, commander of the department of the District of Columbia, United States Spanish American war veterans.

CHANGE NEW JERSEY TRUST LEGISLATION

King Alphonso of Spain Sends Greetings to Gov. Wilson by Representative

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 27.—Chancellor Edwin Robert Walker and former Supreme Court Justice Van Sleet, who, as Governor Wilson's request, drew the seven bills introduced in the senate last week to amend state laws regulating corporations, conferred with the governor today and suggested some changes in three of the bills, as originally drafted.

Governor Wilson agreed to the changes which do not materially alter the bills, but supply an important omission in the measure which defines trusts and would forbid certain acts by corporations, firms and individuals. Through a mistake in transcribing, "clauses" of the bill were not characterized as misdeeds.

Makes Several Changes.
In a second bill which permits corporations to acquire in the collection of debts the bonds and securities and other evidence of indebtedness of non-competing corporations, the limitation "in the collection of debts" is modified to permit corporations to invest their surplus earnings in the same way.

By changes in a third bill which would permit the purchase by corporations of the stock or property of other corporations, doing a corporate business there is stricken out the limitations that purchase could be made only if the stock or property of corporations doing a manufacturing or mining business. The change is made to prevent discrimination against companies doing a trading or selling business. The governor remained at the state house until late tonight while the legislature was in session.

London Is in Hands of Suffragette Army; 2,000 Policemen Required to Handle Crowds; Many Arrests Made

LONDON, Jan. 27.—England is on the brink of another campaign by the suffragettes in comparison with which former outbreaks of the militant women will appear insignificant. Two thousand policemen were engaged tonight in dispersing crowds gathered near the parliament buildings. Shopkeepers were boarding up windows and carrying away their goods. The women believe that the politicians have devised a carefully studied trick to win.

Police Disperse Crowds.
The police dispersed a crowd in Trafalgar square where a man and woman were trying to make speeches. The speakers, who resisted arrest, were arrested. This armed militant, Mrs. Despard, was taken to the police station with six others.

May Drop Franchise Reform.
The government appears to have decided to drop the question of franchise reform altogether for the present session. Harold Trevor Baker's plural voting bill, which was expected to replace the franchise bill, requires extensive amendment, according to the government view, to be undertaken.

DYCUS SUSPENSION IS NOW INDEFINITE

Ten-Day Limit Expired, but Acting Mayor Issues New Order

Patrolman S. E. Dycus was indefinitely suspended from the police department last night by Police Commissioner J. A. Himebaugh, in compliance with an order from Acting Mayor Lawton. Dycus refused to present his resignation when asked by Commissioner Himebaugh last week. His suspension of 10 days ended Saturday night, but he has been reporting for duty, upon advice of his attorney, it is said.

"I cannot assign you to any duty, as I have an order for your resignation," Commissioner Himebaugh told him Saturday night. Dycus said "All right," and then reported for duty the following night.

Yesterday, Commissioner Himebaugh received the following communication from Acting Mayor Lawton: "In view of the fact that you have not been able to secure the resignation of Officer S. E. Dycus, I hereby suspend him until such time as the mayor shall have an opportunity to pass on his case."

BILL TO REGULATE HOURS FOR STREET CAR EMPLOYEES PRECIPITATES CONTEST

House Controversy Over Rules Passes Without Any Serious Conflict

By WALTER LAWSON WILDER.

DENVER, January 27.—Representative Kavanaugh's bill to regulate the hours of employment of street car conductors and motormen is being made the center of a controversy that is of interest to three cities. A delegation representing the employees of the Pueblo Traction company is in the city today seeking to secure an amendment of the bill so that the men may be able to make their full 10 hours daily, even when they have to exceed that limit in order to complete their runs. They also ask that men be allowed to work overtime on special occasions when extra service is needed.

The Denver tramway employees are divided in their opinion of the bill. About 150 of the older men who have the choice of preference runs by reason of seniority in service are opposing the measure, while the younger employees are favorable to the proposition.

As predicted, the house controversy over rules has passed without a serious conflict. Speaker Sherman in the house this morning made a statement in which he explained the rules and declared that hereafter bills reported out of committee would be placed upon the calendar without being delayed by the committee on rules. This arrangement is satisfactory to many of the members who were agitating against the speaker and the committee, and for the present at least the controversy is stilled.

The principal event in the senate today was the discussion of the refusal of the supreme court to give a de-

last night he was given the foregoing order with the following order from Commissioner Himebaugh:
"In compliance with this order you may consider yourself indefinitely suspended from the service of the Colorado Springs police department."
Dyckus is not now on the city payroll, and while he refuses to tender his resignation, his indefinite suspension constitutes dismissal from the service until the mayor acts on the matter.
The suspension of Patrolman Frost, Ten Eyck and others resulted from testimony in the investigation of Dyckus. "They were drinking in the cloak room of the police station after they had gone off duty," Commissioner Himebaugh said.
Commissioner Himebaugh declares that the men are entitled to a hearing.

GETTING GRAY? USE SAGE TEA TO RESTORE NATURAL COLOR OF HAIR

Says Sage and Sulphur Darkens Hair Beautifully and Ends Dandruff

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair, says a well-known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and even today this simple preparation has no equal. Millions of women and men too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only Sage Tea and Sulphur.
Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the mussy mixing at home. Simply table because, while Bulgaria does not need Adrianople, either for defensive or offensive purposes, this town is indispensable to Turkey on account of historic, sentimental and religious associations. In fact, Turkey would be weaker from a military point of view possessing Adrianople, than without it as the present war proves, for a whole army now is immobilized inside the fortress.

"Turkey has shown a yielding spirit toward the allies, ceding a larger area than their own countries before the war. What was the use of assembling a conference if the allies were determined to make no concessions whatsoever? The object of all conferences always has been to find a compromise through mutual giving way.
"If the allies had played a noble part by renouncing Adrianople, Turkey might have become the friend and ally of Bulgaria, as Austria became the friend and ally of Germany after the war of 1866. If Bulgaria ever gets Adrianople, there will be an insurmountable gulf between the two countries and the two races. The spirit of revenge in Turkey will be stronger and deeper than that still life in France over the loss of Alsace-Lorraine, 42 years ago."

Turkey Gets Aid in Germany.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 27.—Prince Said Halim, president of the council of state and secretary of the committee of Union and Progress, has been appointed minister of foreign affairs.
The first industrial act of the new government is the granting of a concession to a German group for the construction of an underground railroad from Bavaria to Istanbul, to Chichli the farthest quarter of Pera. The railway will run under the Golden Horn.
It is reported that a German bank will give Turkey financial aid in return, but the bank denies this report.
The acting foreign minister characterizes the allies' proposal to denounce the armistice as another example of attempted intimidation to which Turkey is becoming accustomed.

GOV. SULZER URGES

their duties to the public. Since they have failed to exercise the power to prevent such clearly vicious abuses, the authority of the state must be invoked.
"Says Abuses Must Stop."
"It seems to me the necessary machinery of these exchanges is often employed with impunity by or through members to commit depredations upon the public.
"These things must be stopped. An enlightened public opinion demands it. An exchange in which they occur ceases to be a legitimate market and becomes a powerful misleading instrument.
"So long as transactions are not intended to mislead and do not infringe upon the rights of others, they should not be interfered with, but transactions that are fraudulent in their nature should be rigorously prohibited.
"I urge upon you the prompt enactment of laws to end these shiffling schemes, and to forbid these clever combinations to catch the unwary and to mislead the public.
Short Selling Is Wrong.
"The subject of so-called short sales is one requiring your serious consideration. A contract to sell property which a man does not own at the time, but with which he can provide himself in time for the performance of his contract, is a general transaction in various branches of business. The best views seem to be that short selling in itself is not wrongful, but the abuse of this practice works injury to the public.
"Your efforts should therefore be to draw a distinction so that what will be condemned is the perversion of a legitimate form of business to improper ends.
"The entire subject should receive immediate consideration and all necessary modifications of existing law for the protection of the investing public should be made promptly and all acts productive of such losses which now are merely a matter of civil liability, should be brought under the condemnation of the penal law."
Bills Being Drafted.
Governor Sulzer tonight said that at his request bills embodying his specific recommendations for proposed legislation are being drafted for introduction in the legislature.
The governor's message was referred without comment in both houses to committees.
Senator Wagner, the majority leader, announced that he would confer at once with legislators and others interested in the question, but that no action would be taken until all sides have had a fair hearing.

KENTUCKY POLITICIAN

KILLED OVER ARGUMENT

CYNTHIA, Ky., Jan. 27.—Harry L. Bailey, Republican nominee for congress from the Ninth district of Kentucky at the last election, was shot and instantly killed here this afternoon by Newton Arnold, also of this district. Bailey was well known as a newspaper man. The argument is said to have arisen over a business deal.

LIVELY DEBATE FOLLOWS ON EQUAL JURY DUTY BILL

DENVER, Jan. 27.—A severe fight on the Helen K. Robinson bill in the senate, to permit the legislature to pass a bill providing for jury duty for women, marked this afternoon's session of that body. Senator Williams of Gilpin denounced the bill and attacked it on the grounds of morality.
"I should hate to see the time come," said he, "when my wife or my daughter would be called upon to serve on a jury and be locked in a jury room with several men jurors over night for several nights. I should hate to see the time when my wife or my daughter would be forced to appear in court and show cause why they should not serve on a jury. And there are many criminal cases in the trial of which it is an insult to ask a woman to listen to the evidence brought out."
Senator John H. Reed of Denver replied in defense.
"Women have equal suffrage. If they want to sit on a jury I can't see why they should not. When the liquor question was brought up at Denver it was the women who voted the town wet. The women of this town drink more highballs and cocktails than the men do anyhow, and they smoke more cigarettes a day than the men do. I can't see why they shouldn't be allowed to serve on juries if they are anxious for it."
The bill was passed on second reading.

offering aid to relieve the soldier's financial difficulties.
"My husband always spoke of General Sickles as the hero of Gettysburg," the statement continues. "General Longstreet in the last autograph letter he ever wrote, last September 19, 1902, to General Sickles, told him that the taking of the peach orchard by Sickles' corps won the battle for the Union forces.
"It was General Longstreet's detachment that shot off the leg of the brave Union general, but as General Longstreet said: 'Sickles can well afford to leave a leg at Gettysburg, for he has made sure of his place forever in the hearts of Americans.'
"I have made no plans as yet, but if General Sickles needs my aid and the aid of the south, he will get it."

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—"It is shocking to think that the state is pursuing such a war hero with a body execution. In England, the British government would vote him from 5,000 to 50,000 pounds sterling.
So declared Republican Leader Brown of the senate tonight in announcing that tomorrow he would introduce a resolution designed to provide for a legislative investigation of the facts concerning the alleged shortage of $23,476 in the accounts of General Daniel E. Sickles, chairman of the state monuments commission, with possible relief for the veteran."

since the organization of the corporation the price of rails had not varied from $28.40.
"I should think that indicated that some understanding existed," said Mr. Scranton.
Corey Heavily Interested.
"That one-fourth of the fortune of William E. Corey, former president of the corporation, is invested in United States Steel securities was brought out today while Mr. Corey was winding up his testimony. The information was elicited from Mr. Corey himself by the government counsel in an apparent effort to show that the witness had not been actuated in giving his testimony, considered by many favorable to the government, by any animosity toward the steel corporation.
Mr. Corey announced that he was "natural in favor of the success of the corporation in the present suit."

The case of the government, which began in October, 1911, probably will be completed tomorrow. The taking of testimony by the defense will not begin until after a recess to allow counsel for the corporation to arrange plans for calling witnesses. These probably will include Judge Gary, James A. Farrell, president of the corporation, and a number of the defendants whom the government did not subpoena.

This recipe makes a pint of better cough syrup than can be bought ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.
Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. The best, pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.
You can feel this take hold of a cough in a day that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.
The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Northern white pine extract, and is used in quinine and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this form.
This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, but never successfully. WOOL SCHEDULE facturers, comprising 100 of the woolen mills of the country, through its president, John P. Wood, of Philadelphia, presented a tentative schedule of rates, but Mr. Wood admitted that the schedule was approximately the same as the present tariff law.

No Signs of Change.
The committee showed no signs today of changing its tentative plan for a revised woolen schedule along the lines of the Democratic bills of the two previous sessions of this congress, which provided for 20 per cent ad valorem on raw wool and from 45 to 60 per cent on cloths, ready-made clothing and other articles.
The testimony tonight bore on woads, combed hair, flannel yarns, and the finer grades of dresses. F. A. Ellwood of California, secretary of the State Wool Growers' association, and representing the national association, asked that a specific duty of about 18 per cent be levied on the scoured content of imported wool. Most of the pleas were for retaining present tariff rates.

CHANGE NEW JERSEY

sonal greetings from the king of Spain through the Marquis de la Vega Inclan, the royal commissioner delegated to select a site for the Spanish exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco. It was the first message Mr. Wilson has received from an European ruler. The envoy besides conveying to the president-elect the king's personal message of good will, expressed in behalf of the king, deep interest in the exposition at San Francisco. He told the governor that Spain had been planning a similar exposition for the same year but now, intended to postpone her world's fair until 1913. The president-elect inquired if it were true that King Alfonso would visit the United States soon, and learned that the laws and customs of Spain made it practically impossible for its monarch to leave the country for any length of time.
Cabinet suggestions continued to pour in today. A committee from the National grange came to discuss the secretaryship of agriculture with the president-elect, but mentioned no names. They simply urged the appointment of a certain type of official who would have "both the sympathy and support of the farmers of the country and who possessed a scientific knowledge of agriculture." The committee consisted of Prof. T. C. Atkinson, C. O. Raine and Richard Pattee, masters of the state granges of West Virginia, Missouri and New Hampshire, respectively.
In speaking of the conference later the governor said the critics had puntiliously refrained from mentioning names but urged the selection of a man who thoroughly understood and could sympathize with the work of the farm elements.
The governor's attention was called to dispatches stating that he contemplated trips to Panama, the Philippines and Alaska during his administration. "My thoughts just now," he commented, "do not extend beyond going to Washington and getting down to business. Releases from business I haven't thought of yet."

FORESTERS WOULD AID HOMESTEADERS

DENVER, Jan. 27.—Methods of aiding in the settlement of homesteads within the limits of the national forests were discussed today at the annual convention of forest supervisors of district No. 2.
The forest service was given an appropriation by congress last summer of $35,000 for the purpose of classifying forest lands available for agriculture. An appropriation of $100,000 has been asked of congress at the present session.
Until recent months, the policy of the forestry service was not to segregate agricultural lands until application for homestead rights was made. The present system, however, is to classify the land in advance, and throw it open to entry.
The convention which opened here today consists of delegates from Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota and Michigan.

RATHER LATE
It appears that Commissioner Himebaugh, of the Department of Public Safety, has asked the City Attorney for a written opinion as to the powers of the police with respect to social clubs. He asks:
If this department shall have reason to believe that gambling or other offenses are being committed in any social club, has the department or its officers the right to enter said premises for purposes of inspection, and if not, what are the powers and duties of this department in such cases?

Mr. Himebaugh explains that a great many people have asked him why he did not investigate the clubs hence this curiosity as to his authority.
This desire is altogether commendable. But let's see. Mr. Himebaugh has been Commissioner of Public Safety a little less than two years. Just suppose that something had happened in the meantime in some club a poker game, for instance, and that the Chief had really wanted to make a raid. Wouldn't it have been a little embarrassing to find that it had never occurred to the head of the department to learn whether or not he had legal authority for such action?
After all, though, it is better for a public official to familiarize himself with the nature of his duties late than not to do it at all.

ISTHMIAN COMMERCE
THE near approach of the opening of the Panama Canal directs attention to the volume of commerce already carried over the Isthmian route. During the last three or four years there has been a remarkable gain in the importance of this trade, especially in shipments by the Tehuantepec Railway, across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec in southern Mexico. Occasionally a critic of the Canal points out that the ease, cheapness and rapidity of shipments by this railway will make it a formidable competitor of the Canal, and, unless canal rates are placed at a very low figure, divert a substantial portion of the business.
A recent Government report shows the relative favor in which the two present Isthmian trade routes are held by shippers. In the last half year the total value of the traffic across the Isthmus was approximately $46,000,000 by the Tehuantepec railway and $10,500,000 by the Panama railway. This wide difference is probably due to the fact that the Panama route is much longer and therefore slower than the Tehuantepec route, although the actual time required in the land shipment is less in the former case.
Of course the Canal is certain to be the highway for the bulk of Isthmian commerce, but the existence of a railroad at Tehuantepec is equally certain to act as a perpetual check on canal toll charges.

RAILWAY PROSPERITY
THE prophets of adversity who a year ago predicted a heavy slump in business incident to the national campaign have for once been most agreeably discredited. Tempestuous as it was, the campaign scarcely created a ripple on the full-flowing stream of business.
This is shown by reports of railway earnings, which usually indicate the condition of the nation's prosperity with a fair degree of accuracy. The returns for last November show a substantial increase over November of the previous year. Operating income averaged $2.13 per mile of line for each day in the month, a gain of $1.63 over November, 1911. This is the entire amount available to the railways for rentals interest on bonds, appropriations and dividends. During the five months covered by the campaign the net operating revenue per mile of line of the eastern railways, compared with the corresponding months of the previous year, increased 9.3 per cent, while that of the western railways increased 15.8 per cent. Considering these figures and the various other evidences of abounding national prosperity, the fallacy of the general belief that a national campaign creates hard times is evident. Not since 1896 has there been a campaign which so diverted public attention as the last one, but it appears that most people were able to attend to business even while spending a few hours a day talking politics.

NORRIS OF NEBRASKA

OF the men who will have seats in the senate that will come into being after March 4, not one will more deserve the honor of the senatorship, not one will enter the chamber better equipped for fighting the people's battles, than the new senator from Nebraska, George William Norris.
He was a progressive long before there was a Progressive party. As congressman from Nebraska he led the fight that resulted in the overthrow of Cannonism in the house. He has at all times shown a splendid independence in the casting of his vote; he has at all times championed that legislation that now is embodied in the national Progressive platform.
Best of all, he has courage. He is no trimmer. He stands out in the open and fights like a man. Nominated for United States senator in the Republican primary before the Chicago convention, he did not hesitate about taking his stand after the break came. He openly and boldly announced that he was for Roosevelt for president though he knew that in so doing he was alienating the votes of thousands of Republicans.
But the progressives of Nebraska, regardless of party, rallied to his support. And it is to their credit that, though Wilson carried the state by a good plurality, Norris was triumphantly elected. Nebraska, consequently, will be represented in the next senate by a man who is certain to take a leading part in the great progressive movement a man who will vote his convictions, at any cost.

ALCOHOLICS NOT SANE

DR. D. T. CROTHERS, superintendent of the Walnut Lodge hospital, Hartford, Conn., with other authorities on alcoholic poisoning, declares that an alcoholic is never absolutely sane. By an alcoholic he means a man who is a steady drinker, a man who drinks constantly, every day, who never, or at least seldom, is intoxicated, and who makes his boast that it does not hurt him, and that he can do as good work as any man.—New York American.

The man who drinks faces a steadily narrowing field of employment. On the railroads and in the great industries of modern times it is a growing conviction that no drinking man must be employed. A man upon whom depends the lives of others must be at all times absolutely sane.

AGAIN AT THE TREASURY

DENVER has not yet learned her lesson. It would seem that the decisive defeat of the Moffat tunnel scheme should have shown the capital city that the people of the state will not use the state's money for the upbuilding of Denver alone. But apparently the lesson of that vote did not sink in deeply. For now it is announced that Denver will ask $1,000,000 from the state for the Denver festival in 1915.
With the referendum in effect, Denver should learn that the people of Colorado will never again appropriate money that will inure to the benefit of only a minority of the people of the state.

CIVIC LEAGUE'S REPLY TO DR. GARVIN.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
The Civic League submits its corrections to Dr. Garvin's misstatements published in Monday morning's Gazette.
Dr. Garvin says: (1) The Civic League is an institution which can take the wrong side of the liquor question in both the wars that have been on the last two years.
The Civic League never took formal action for or against the liquor question. It did throw open its meetings for the public for a free discussion of this subject in order to get all points of view. The following gentlemen spoke: Dr. Franklin, for prohibition; Mr. Alexander Smith, high license; Mr. E. W. Kent, Swedish dispensary system; the Rev. Dr. Wolfe, prohibition.
The meeting adjourned without taking action.
(2) The Civic League is an institution that lobbies in the city hall on the seventh day of rest of our weary working people.
The meetings of the city council are open to all citizens and the Civic League follows the work of the city council through its council committee. All communications from the league to the council are publicly presented through this committee.
It is a matter of regret to the league that so few of our citizens show enough interest in municipal affairs to be present at these meetings, or being present to express themselves when courteously invited by the council to do so. Again the league opened its meeting to a public discussion of the "one day rest in seven" ordinance and addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Hutchison, City Attorney McKesson and Dr. Franklin and Mr. Carpenter.
No action was taken by the league.
(3) The Civic League is an institution that strives to maintain a day of Sabbath dissipation and work." At the regular meeting of the council, October 2, 1912, at which representatives of the Ministerial association were present, the subjects of Sunday observance and Sunday moving picture shows were discussed. The secretary of the Civic League, feeling that the whole subject called for study and should not be lightly settled, asked; before action was taken, for the appointment of a citizens' committee to study the whole subject of amusements and Sunday observance and their relations. The earnest desire of the league to proceed slowly and scientifically in a matter of such wide public interest is undoubtedly the basis of Dr. Garvin's remarkable statement. Might we be permitted to ask for Dr. Garvin's "credentials" of Christian character in so wronging a large number of Christian women?

Are not some of the efforts made toward the common good wasted by misunderstandings such as these, so easily avoidable by securing knowledge of the hand.

Acting President Civic League.

THE STRAIGHT HOME CONTRACT.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
In the Evening-Telegraph it is noticed that the contract for the Stratton home is liable to go to Denver contractors on account of the local lumber and plumbers' trust. It is stated that material is from 10 to 15 per cent higher here than in Denver and this difference is responsible for the high cost by local contractors.
The Newton Lumber & Manufacturing company gave out figures to three Denver contractors. The entire lumber list, as furnished this company, figured less than $5,000, and if a matter of 10 or 15 per cent is responsible, then $600 to $900 has lost the contract as far as the lumbermen are concerned and they must bear the blame.
One Denver contractor told the writer that the figure given here was $1 less delivered on the work than the Denver figure he had delivered on cars here, and that it would cost him $150 more per thousand to get it on the work. Does this look as though the local lumber trust was responsible for this?

Besides the small amount, $5,000, for the lumber, a prominent local contractor told the writer that aside from lumber there was about $25,000 worth of steel. Surely this can't be laid to the lumberman. Also that the plumbing was about $20,000. Also this contractor said he had figures on plumbing from Denver, and on this amount there was less than $300 difference, so this would look as though the plumber was not wholly to blame. These same plumbers have done some of the best work over Colorado and New Mexico during the past 10 years, and this in competition with Denver. They have also done large work in Denver.
A general brick contractor figured this work and told the writer that brick offered laid down on this work by local brick men were less than this Denver brick contractor could buy brick for delivered in Denver.
This does not sound good to a local lumberman to be made a "fool" in this matter, all because a small amount—$5,000, on a $200,000 contract—should be singled out, and of this amount 10 or 15 per cent too high as compared with Denver. It is safe to say that there will be more than $5,000 difference between high and low bid and that if $5,000 worth of lumber was presented the high bidder he would lose the work.

Let's be fair about this matter and not lay the blame to any merchant, or any set of merchants, of Colorado Springs, and boost Denver.

Women and Justice

By RUTH CAMERON.
"What can I do for you, madam?" said the clerk at the inquiry office to the efficient young woman in the trim, tailored suit.
"Pardon me, but I think those people were here before me," said the efficient young woman, indicating a man and a woman who had been waiting longer than she.
The clerk at the inquiry office attended to the wants of the two people indicated, after which he came back to the efficient young woman and answered two or three quick, efficient questions for her. As she walked briskly away, after a pleasant "thank you," he peered after her with an expression of great interest on his face. "Well, I heard him say, 'That's the first time I ever saw a woman do that. I've seen 'em rush in here, squeeze in ahead of people who have been waiting 10 minutes, and interrupt anyone who was trying to talk to me. But that's the first time I ever saw a woman insist on waiting until her turn. Yes, there really must be something in this new woman business after all, shall I sample?'"
"Don't you hope she is a sample of what women are going to be some day soon?"
"I do."
For it seems to me that the quality which women lack the most conspicuously is just this same sense of justice, this habit of playing fair, which that woman displayed.
I don't think it's wholly their fault by any means. For centuries they have been given chivalry and deference and protection as substitutes for justice; is it strange, then, that they should scarcely understand the meaning of that same word?

Now let me think I am deprecating the value of courtesy and deference, and write me a hot letter telling me that the women would be better without them. I know that already. Only I do not think that the things should be made a substitute for justice. They are splendid in addition to justice, but not in place of it. Just as cake and ice cream are an excellent complement to solid food, but we do not want them in place of bread and meat.
It is such a queer notion that courtesy and justice are necessarily exclusive of each other. One of the weirdest arguments of the antisuffragists is that men will no longer give women their seats in the cars when women vote. How absurd! On that basis men should not give their seats to members of their own sex who are not able to stand by reason of old age or infirmity; but I notice they do.
To return to the main road, if women are really going to succeed in the business and professional world, they will need a stronger sense of justice than they now have. They must learn to demand justice for themselves, and to show it to others. They must learn not to crowd ahead of others in the waiting line, even if they get a good chance, and they must learn to appreciate the bigger principles of justice on which such little deceptions rest.

COLDS

By GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old Sissaw."
A cold is a hot, feverish condition of the victim's lining, leading to coughs, sneezes, wheezes, gasps, red eyes, swollen noses and a general inclination to fight at the lifting of an eyebrow.
If a cold caused the victim to cough and turn into an idiot it would probably be called a hot. The best guessers are always the brightest students of English.
People do not contract colds as they do brain fever or develop them as they do appendicitis. They take them. A cold is the most useless thing in the world to take. If a man didn't have a thing in the world he would be better for leaving a cold alone. Yet millions of people take cold every day.

"If the cold caused the victim to cough and turn into an idiot it would probably be called a hot."

But then millions of others take almost any patent medicine samples and souvenir spoons out of the hotels. The taking habit in any form is bad and should be guarded against.
When a man has taken a cold he is usually as sorry as if he had stealthily abstracted a large wallet from its native lair. The cold gallops through his system and makes him feel like a fourth hand automobile in no time. His throat becomes rusty and numbs; his nose gets red hot and he sneezes and goes out of commission; his heart becomes clogged, his epiglottis develops cactus spines, his bronchitis corrodes and his palate feels like a hot stove lid.
Colds are not fatal, but are frequently exchanged by their desperate owners for pneumonia and other forms of rapid transit to the tomb. If a cold has no serious intentions it usually leaves the sad wreck of the man who took it in about four days. If any one of the 999 remedies for a cold are dug out, the cold will be killed in a day and the after effects of the remedy will disappear in less than a week.
Colds are caused by microbes, and physicians tell us that a man who has a cold goes down the street handing out small sample packages of cold bacilli to all passersby as lavishly as if they were campaign cards with his picture on them. Physicians say that people with colds should be quarantined, but there would be no sense in this procedure. If the people without colds were quarantined the same result would be obtained and the business of the world would not be so badly crippled.

BERGER WOULD HAVE CONGRESS LOOK INTO STRIKE CONDITIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Investigation of conditions in the garment workers' industry in New York was proposed in a resolution today by Representative Berger, the Socialist member from Wisconsin. The resolution would authorize the appointment of a special committee of seven members to inquire into the conditions surrounding the garment trade and the recent strike.
In the preamble, Mr. Berger sets forth that the New York clothing industry supplies the trade of a large section of the country through interstate trade, that the wages of the industry are so low that "healthy surroundings and a decent standard of living have become almost impossible."
It is further charged, continues the preamble, "that the conditions of the industry are such as to cause the manufacture of the nation's clothing and further, that said manufacture is carried on in filthy and unsanitary places saturated with germs of consumption, smallpox and scarlet fever and other contagious diseases."
Mr. Berger's resolution set forth that clothing made in such conditions is a "serious menace and danger to the welfare and health of all people."
In a statement accompanying his resolution, Mr. Berger said that he desired to show "the close connection which the intolerable economic conditions of the garment workers bear to crime and vice on the one hand, and how these economic conditions revenge themselves upon all the people. Because the people allow the evil to exist."

JULIA MARLOWE, ACTRESS, IS ONLY TAKING A REST

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—That Julia Marlowe, the actress, is not suffering from pyromania poisoning, and is merely resting from the effects of overwork, was explained here today by Mrs. J. H. Benham, to whose home Miss Marlowe was taken upon her arrival here today from St. Louis.
"Miss Marlowe simply had to take a rest," said Mrs. Benham. "She isn't sick, but just played out."
Miss Marlowe declined to see visitors.

THE HASKIN LETTER

THE REPUBLIC OF CHINA
XII THE Y. M. C. A. IN CHINA
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

One who chronicles the work of the Young Men's Christian association in China finds that he has to deal with something more than a religious propaganda. He has merely to get in casual touch with this movement to learn that it has made remarkable progress in a very short time, that it was a vital element in the forces that moved China to turn on masses to better things, that it is exerting a mighty influence in the organization of the Chinese republic on a firm and broad foundation, and that it is destined to flame among the greater lights which the hand of the Almighty has set aglow in order that more than 400,000,000 of his children may see to step forth into a better day.
The historian of the future will record all of this, and more. He will tell the story of the faith, earnestness, enthusiasm, sacrifices, brains and money of Americans back of the great achievement. He will tell of the young secretaries in the field who are working with crusader inspiration. He will tell of the Twenty-four-Hour-a-Day club of Washington, that organization of over 300 business and professional men of the capital city founded several years ago by the late John B. Stettin, Jr., "China's Xiang" (crusader) who gave his life for the cause at the early age of 27. He will tell how that club supports Fletcher S. Brockman, the national general secretary for China, besides Galen M. Fisher, national secretary for Japan, and C. J. Ewald, general secretary for South America. He will tell of the Princeton students and graduates who have for years given the association in Peking its entire force of secretaries, and will continue to do so for many years to come. He will tell of the benefactions of American philanthropists. He will tell of the thousands of unknown Americans whose willing mite went over the sea for a noble cause.

Started 25 Years Ago.
Y. M. C. A. work was started in China 25 years ago at the request of Protestant missionary bodies. They knew that it could fill fields closed to them. They saw the need of this result-getting interdenominational institution. The work began in a very small way. Lack of funds from home and dense ignorance and deep prejudice in China put ball and chain on every early step that was taken. In the first few years the doctrine of Spirit, Mind and Body made little headway.
The Chinese boy, however, was potentially splendid material to work with. He is eager, enthusiastic, ambitious, full of fun and takes readily to athletics. Finally results began to show in the centers such as Hongkong, Shanghai and Tientsin, where foreign influence was the greatest. More and more young men of good family and modern education turned to it because Christians and then non-Christians. Official suspicion gradually changed into sympathy and practical support. Today there are 107 associations throughout the country. Work on an extensive scale is being done in Shanghai, Peking, Tientsin, Canton, Changchow, Chefoo, Hongkong and Hongkong European. Three associations now own their own plants. The value of the buildings and grounds is nearly $5,000,000. Five years ago there were 21 forens, nearly all American, and 38 Chinese secretaries. This growth in Chinese secretaries is significant. It is also interesting to note that one-third of the foreign staff is now supported by other agencies than the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. in New York. Furthermore, the Chinese themselves are expected to make their associations self-supporting and are beginning to do so.

Revolution Imperils Work.
Last year's revolution greatly imperiled Y. M. C. A. work in China, despite the fact that it had, consciously or unconsciously, helped to bring about and will in the future be greatly benefited by the change. Many of the Chinese secretaries, members of the boards of directors and members became soldiers of the revolt. The associations "went broke" to a great extent. Officials who had subscribed regularly and generously were either in hiding or had been killed. As one city after another was looted many rich supporters became refugees and paupers. All schools, colleges and other public institutions were closed. Rents and salaries were in arrears. The policy of self-support for the time being put the organization face to face with greater danger than confronted all other religious bodies there. A timely emergency fund from the United States met the crisis.

The report of Secretary Brockman shows that the political situation presented even more serious difficulties. The membership, both north and south, was made up almost entirely of progressive men in sympathy with the revolutionary party. If the movement had existed only in the south, the organization would have had little to fear. But the headlong enthusiasm of the men in the north threatened great harm to the work in the north. The old custom was not to fly the rebel flag until the revolution was over, and was thus exposed to the suspicion of being in favor of the monarchy. But if the flag had been put up it would doubtless have resulted in an "Lupul" editor which would have closed every plant in north China. The date had to be omitted on magazines and other literature supplied to members in north China, and the old custom was that the date followed the year of the emperor's reign. At the same time, a member caught in north China in possession of any publication with the prescribed date left off would have lost his head. It was a conflict of geographical interests throughout. The interests of the northern associations required so much conservatism from the southern branches that they ran the risk of denunciation by revolutionary leaders.
Not Mixed in Politics.
Equally inconsistent were the southerners in clamoring for action by the northern associations which brought them on the verge of suppression more than once, and foreboded a period of headless members. Even native secretaries were none too safe. While most of the members were revolutionists, openly in the south, covertly in the north, they were careful not to implicate their association, and at no time was the Y. M. C. A. as an organization accused by either side of playing politics. Nevertheless, the revolution was a revolution of young men and students, a large share of whom were Y. M. C. A. men.
A student volunteer movement in connection with general association of affairs is spreading to all the provincial and educational centers. It is a noteworthy fact that the best results are being obtained in the government schools, the very places where the greatest obstacles were encountered up to the overthrow of the Manchurian dynasty. The leader and moving spirit in this far-reaching campaign is not an American, as might be supposed, but a young Chinese, Hei Tsing Tsing, Peking. A variable Apostle Paul, two years ago, he organized the student volunteer movement in China. He goes from place to place and the students are inspired to a marvelous degree, so that they organize and keep going long after he has gone. He is training an assistant, Mr. Liang Hain, who was the largest son of an opium eater in "Manking seven years" ago, but who was "reformed" and dedicated to this mission. He also had five student volunteers, all working without any compensation. Pastor Ting carries his work to the Chinese students in Christian Union, A. S. in the past three years he has pledged 300 to the ministry, which is more than were secured by all the Protestant missionary organizations in the first hundred years of Christian endeavor in China.
Annual Student Conferences.
Of great importance are the annual student conferences. Twelve were held in 1912 as against four, five years ago. Then only a handful of government students cared or dared to enter them, and the leadership was accordingly foreign. Last year the conference was directed by the Chinese themselves. Eastern Money Market
Improved, Says Newbold

Financial and investment conditions in the east are much improved, the money market is easier and investors are buying more freely especially in the bond market, according to T. R.
Newbold, of the firm of Newbold, Tay-

from a two weeks' visit to New York city.

Public utility bonds are largely sought, he said, and the outlook is very encouraging in all lines of investment. In his opinion the country as a rule views conditions with a much brighter outlook.

HAVE POLICE POWER TO EXAMINE CLUBS?

Commissioner Himebaugh Asks City Attorney for Legal Opinion

CITY Attorney McKesson yesterday received a communication from Police Commissioner Himebaugh asking for information as to the power of the police regarding social clubs, and especially whether the department or its officers has a right to enter such premises for purposes of inspection.

Mr. McKesson stated last night that he had an opinion on the matter, but would not make a public expression until he had investigated further.

Commissioner Himebaugh states that he desired to ascertain the rights of the police with regard to clubs, as many persons had asked him why he did not investigate them. He said that the inquiry did not mean that such investigation is contemplated.

The text of the letter follows:
"In order to be advised as to the legal rights and duties of the department, I am submitting the following and desire that you give me your opinion in writing:

"If this department shall have reason to believe that gambling or other offenses are being committed in any social club, has the department or its officers the right to enter said premises for purposes of inspection, and if not, what are the powers and duties of this department in such cases?"

W. S. JENNINGS TELLS OF FLORIDA TRANSACTIONS

Former Governor W. S. Jennings of Florida concluded his testimony yesterday in the district court in the suit of William O'Brien against R. J.
Bolles and the Florida Fruit Lands Co.
He insisted that he had resigned as general counsel for the state internal improvement fund of Florida when employed as agent for Bolles in carrying through a land deal for which Bolles is said to have paid him $75,000.

He stated that the minutes of the trustees of December 12, 1908, were incorrect as they did not show that he tendered his resignation, but he admitted it was probable that he drew his salary up to December 31, when the office of general counsel was abolished.

Mr. Jennings testified that while he was in Washington with the governor of Florida, it was found that the Scott brothers could not meet the terms of the proposed contract. He said that he and his associates had decided to accept the proposition of Bolles.

Mr. Jennings said he was only counsel for the trustees, and that the governor was the only trustee in Washington at that time. He stated that he could not say whether the governor was influenced by his advice in turning down the Scott brothers and accepting the Bolles proposition.

Several of the principal purchases of Florida land were made without the knowledge of O'Brien, Mr. Jennings said, and he stated that he had no recollection of addressing O'Brien regarding any of the Florida deals.

G. D. Evans Held on Charge of Perjury

George D. Evans is beginning to believe that it was an unlucky day for him when he returned to Colorado Springs a few weeks ago in an effort
to effect a reconciliation with his wife, formerly Miss Ella Pitts of Manitou.

He has been in the county jail several weeks awaiting trial on charges of non-support and desertion brought against him by his wife, and yesterday was taken into the district court on information charging him with perjury
in securing the marriage license a year ago last June. It is alleged that he then had a wife in Ohio, from whom he was not divorced. His trial is set for February 6.

The wife alleges that shortly after their marriage he deserted her while on their honeymoon trip in California.
When Evans returned recently to live with his wife, she saw him on the street before he had an opportunity to see her. She had him arrested and taken from his apartments
at the Antlers hotel and landed in jail.

PROPOSED DANCE HALL LAW UNDER DISCUSSION

Plans to make more effective the proposed ordinance regulating dance halls were discussed yesterday by a committee representing the Civic League in conference with Acting Mayor Lawton. Several minor changes were suggested, but it is probable that the main portion of the proposed ordinance will stand as presented to the council for consideration. The council probably will report on the proposed ordinance at the meeting next Friday.

Wages in Japan have risen 50 per cent in 10 years and the cost of living has increased 32 per cent.

AUTHORITIES BALK ATTEMPT OF WOMAN TO MARRY MAN CONFINED IN COUNTY JAIL

Mrs. Esther Moutray Gets License to Wed J. B. Stanton, But Ceremony Is Held Up

With the shadow of the penitentiary over him, as he stands convicted of forgery, and sentenced to a term of from one year to 18 months, Mrs.
Esther Moutray is determined to marry James B. Stanton, and although all her matrimonial plans were balked yesterday by the authorities, she has not given up hope, and will make another attempt today, it is said.

Mrs. Moutray procured a license yesterday morning for her prospective marriage to Stanton. The ceremony was to have been performed in the county jail yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Justice Dunnington.

But the plan had to be given up, as District Attorney Purcell instructed Sheriff Birden not to permit the marriage to take place, saying that it would be inadvised.

May Try Again Today.

Mrs. Moutray has taken no one into her confidence regarding her plans for today, although it is said that she
more than ever is determined to marry Stanton.

According to her statement when she applied for the marriage license, Mrs.
Moutray was divorced two years ago
in Blackwell, Okla., on grounds of cruelty.

Stanton was convicted of signing the name of J. B. Moutray to a note for $100 which he negotiated with R. E.
Dale. It is alleged that he claimed that Mrs. Moutray was his wife.

Whether Mrs. Moutray will succeed in marrying Stanton before he is taken away to the penitentiary depends upon the action of the authorities this morning. They are opposed to the proceeding, but Mrs. Moutray may appeal to Judge Morris for a ruling. It is said.
Judge Morris declined to state what his ruling might be, but remarked:
"I have often heard that a term in prison was grounds for divorce, but I have never heard that it was grounds
for marriage."

Purcell Opposes Plan.

"I have done all that I can to oppose this proposed marriage," said District Attorney Purcell last night. "This affair shows where the law of Colorado in such cases is made. Stanton should not be permitted to marry until his term is served in the penitentiary.
We have no law governing such cases.
We have a law making a penitentiary term grounds for divorce, and we should have a law making it impossible for a convicted person to marry until his term is out."

in advance of the annual meeting, which will be held February 10. Workmen on the ninth level have gone about

PEACE IN THE BATKANS

The news of an agreement on peace terms to end the war of Turkey and the Balkan allies which had been ragged almost continually since the first week in October, will be welcome news to travelers whose plans were entirely changed by the war.

The tidings of the ordinary traveler was shown in the depleted lists of steamers sailing since the outbreak, and one steamship company even went so far as to withdraw a Cruise which had been advertised for months. Another Cruise by a Cunard Line steamer under charter to Frank C. Clark a New York tourist agent, was so well fortified by advance bookings that the cancellations were not so serious and that one is the only Cruise leaving New York this winter—rather a remarkable state of affairs, and hardly duplicated
for several years past.

Mr. Clark reports an increased interest in Mediterranean travel since the news from Constantinople has taken on a more optimistic tone, and predicts a full passenger list for his ship.

CONSERVATION OF MAN

DR. WILEY'S SUBJECT BE-FORE CONSERVATION
CONGRESS

Discusses Means of Lessening Mortality Roll. Protection of Public Health.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, who lectures
here Wednesday night in The Burns theater, spoke on "The Conservation of Man,"
before the Fourth National Conservation at Indianapolis. He gave statistics to show that 15 per cent of America's population dies every year and that the average expectation of life is 44 years.
Children under 1 year comprise one-fifth of all the deaths.

Dr. Wiley says murder is more prevalent in this country than in any other.
In discussing means of lessening the mortality roll Dr. Wiley said:

"In the protection of the public health
it will become as much the duty of each state and nation to provide sanitary detention camps for infectious diseases and rigidly enforce residence
therein, as it is to watch the border and establish a strict quarantine."

Dr. Wiley said the ideals of eugenics suggested by Darwin and "Cerberus"
the man is to be bred scientifically."

said Dr. Wiley, "there must be many selected mothers and a few high grade fathers. The human race is not yet ready to face the problem in the true light of science. As long as the heart is whole men and women with only one lung will fall in love. For untold centuries to come we must be resigned to a human race composed principally of scrubs."

Dr. Wiley comes here from Denver and lectures in The Burns Wednesday night at 8:30 in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course.

WALKER SAYS RAILROADS ARE NOT IN MINE MERGER

Confirmation of published reports of the merger of Chippie Creek mining properties, in which the El Paso Consolidated and the Golden Cycle are the principal factors, was made yesterday
in this city by Joseph Walker, Jr., A.
L. Burris, president of the El Paso, and H. McGarry, manager of the Golden Cycle, who returned from their Chippie Creek visit yesterday morning.

The party, including Henry M. Blackmer of Denver, made a thorough inspection of the Golden Cycle mill yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Walker made several additional statements about the merger, among them being that no railroads were included in the deal, and that he is satisfied with both El Paso and Golden Cycle.

Judge McGarry refused to give out further details of the option on Golden Cycle. P. J. Ryan, general manager of the Mary McKinney mine, issued a statement yesterday denying reports
of an option on the Mary McKinney,
and stating that there would be none.

An option on 70,000 shares of El Paso
stock has been given by James F.
Burns to Mr. Burris. The stock option was secured for 10 cents a share and will expire Saturday, but it is stated that Mr. Burris will take up the option.
The stock is held in escrow at this time.

Mr. Walker and Mr. Burris left yesterday afternoon for New York city.

HEIKE IS REFUSED IMMUNITY; EXPOSED SUGAR WEIGHT FRAUD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Charles R. Heike, former secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, has no immunity from prosecution for the "sugar weighing frauds" against the government because he testified before the grand jury regarding them. The supreme court so held today. The court held that Heike must serve his eight months' imprisonment and pay his $5,000 fine.

Heike was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government.

He had testified at a grand jury investigation under the Sherman anti-trust law into the affairs of the American Sugar Refining company. Later he was prosecuted in connection with the weighing frauds at the customs docks in Brooklyn.

Heike claimed he was immune against the latter prosecution by virtue of an appropriation act of 1893, which provided that those who furnished evidence in anti-trust or interstate commerce investigations should be granted immunity only against prosecutions for conspiracy to defraud the government. The government also contended that to procure immunity, the testimony given at the investigation must be of an incriminating character.

The conviction of Heike was the outcome of a series of proceedings growing out of the sugar weighing frauds in which the company was required to pay the government more than $2,000,000.

The government claimed that Heike as secretary and treasurer could not have possibly been ignorant of the frauds.

Justice Holmes handing down the decision, said it seemed that the immunity acts were continuous with the constitution; provision against a man being compelled to testify against himself. He said, however, that it was not necessary to define exactly the limits of immunity, because Heike gave testimony which did not "concern" the crime for which he was convicted nor was it relevant thereto.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION OPPOSED TO ALL DANCES; FAVORS TRIAL DIVORCES

The elimination of all club dances and all public dance halls, without any attempt to permit their continued existence by regulation, is the only solution of the problem that has developed from the recent dance hall investigation, according to the report of a committee of the Ministerial association presented yesterday to the association. The report follows:

The testimony submitted before the special session of the council clearly disclosed the existence of degrading and demoralizing dance hall conditions in our city.

We concur with all good citizens in looking to the duly constituted authorities to remove such conditions and to enforce all laws in all places safeguarding the moral welfare of our people.

We stand unalterably opposed to the existence of all club dances and all public dance halls under any degree of so-called regulation in Colorado Springs.

The report was referred to the Colorado Dry league and to the Federated Church brotherhoods of the city.

Favor Trial Divorce Bill.

The association endorsed the action of Senator W. C. Robinson in introducing in the legislature a bill providing that divorces granted in Colorado in the future shall be in the nature of a trial separation of dissatisfied couples, giving them an opportunity to make up within a year if they so desire. The chief feature of the measure is that a divorce shall not be effective until one year after it is granted. The measure also aims to prevent the practice of persons securing divorces in Colorado that they may go to another state to marry again.

The association appointed the following committee to cooperate with Senator Robinson in endeavoring to secure the enactment of the measure: The Revs. J. H. Spencer, M. N. Smith, H. I. Kohler, S. E. Brewster, E. H. Liles, A. W. Moore and C. R. Garver.

The Revs. J. Y. Ewart and W. E. Bennett were elected delegates to the trades assembly.

The evangelistic committee reported that Billy Sunday had been invited to come here in June.

W. R. Fox, 195 W. Other members of my family have used them with similar results. You will save time and money, and avoid needless pain and suffering by taking Foley's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. WYOMING DEMOCRATS TO CONTEST ELECTION OF SEN. F. E. WARREN

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 27.—With the senate at its meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon adopting the report of the house committee on rules and privileges and elections, seating the two contested Republican senators, the reelection of United States Senator Francis E. Warren became practically assured. The Democratic senators in caucus, however, decided to contest the election of Senator Warren in the national senate.

The full text of the evidence gathered by the Democratic members of the state legislature in connection with what they were charged were gross frauds perpetrated in Uinta county to secure the preferential election of Senator Warren will be filed with the United States senate committee on privileges and elections.

The two Republicans against whom the contests were dismissed are W. C. Irvine of Converse county, and O. E. Bradbury of Uinta county. In connection with Bradbury's contest the evidence of the alleged Uinta county frauds was put into the separate journal through the agency of a minority report filed by the Democratic members of the committee. The announced purpose of this was to have the charges in record form to present before the United States senate when Senator Warren returns to Washington at the beginning of the new administration.

JOHNSON BEATS WHITE

PUEBLO, Jan. 27.—With the advantage of 13 pounds in weight, but with a superiority of the fighting game at his command, Eddie Johnson of Pueblo played all around Frankie White of Chicago before a crowd which packed the Pueblo Athletic club to suffocation tonight, and finally won the match, which was to all intents and purposes a knockout, in the tenth round. Toward the end of the round Johnson had White going and knocked him through the ropes. White staggered back and went at his opponent with open arms. Johnson merely placed a few taps on White's face and the latter dropped to the mat where he took the count.

From the opening of the match Johnson had the best of the argument. It was noticeable, however, that the Chicago had rushed things at the start, but it was evident to all the fans that he could not keep up the gait. The local boy kept his head and waited his time, making most of his blows count.

Aching Kidneys Cured in Colorado Springs

Are YOUR Kidneys Weak?

HOW TO TELL—First read the testimony and learn what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for others.

Then if your back aches, if sharp pains strike you when stooping or lifting; if you are lame in the morning, tire too easily; if you have dizzy spells and are nervous, despondent and inclined to worry over trifles; if the kidney secretions are highly colored and full of sediment, if passages are too frequent, scanty, painful or scalding, it is likely that your kidneys need quick attention.

Take a sample of the urine and let it stand for 24 hours. If a sandy, brick-dust like sediment settles to the bottom of the receptacle, there is evidence enough to suspect the kidneys.

If Your Back Aches and Your Kidneys are Weak, Get the Kidney Remedy That Has Been Proved
(GOOD) Again and Again Right Here in Colo. Sp'gs.
Colorado Springs People Tell It:

S. CASCADE AVENUE

William Koules, blacksmith, 325 Cascade Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "Off and on for five years I suffered from disordered kidneys. I had distressing headaches, was nervous and had to get up several times at night to pass the kidney secretions. I noticed that the secretions were filled with sediment and they also pained in passage. My back ached severely, especially if I took cold or exerted myself. Sometimes my right kidney swelled so that there would be a knot over it as large as one's fist. Working in a cramped position so much brought a strain on my back and it made the trouble worse. Colds always brought on backache. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me as soon as I used them and I now feel like a different person."

N. SPRUCE STREET

Mrs. M. A. Benson, 218 N. Spruce St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "About ten years ago I was a terrible sufferer from kidney and bladder trouble. The attack was a severe one and I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co. They brought great benefit and now I have no kidney trouble whatever." (Statement given August 16, 1911.)

A LASTING CURE

On October 23, 1912, Mrs. Benson said: "I am glad to confirm the testimonial I gave for Doan's Kidney Pills some time ago. I haven't had any kidney trouble since I was cured."

E. PLATTE AVENUE

Mrs. C. Anderson, 511 E. Platte Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I had severe pains in my back, often extending into my shoulders. It has been thirteen years since Doan's Kidney Pills proved their merit to me. I have willingly recommended them since I first used them. If my kidneys get weak, I know that a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills will relieve me at once. Another of my family caught cold in his kidneys and his back ached severely. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and in a few days the backache had left him entirely."

S. NEVADA AVENUE

Philip Gamble, 719 S. Nevada Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I was bothered a great deal by backache, especially when I was working as a laborer. I was so much bothered that after I stood for a time, I couldn't straighten without a great effort. When I took cold, it settled on my kidneys and caused severe backache. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co., relieved me as soon as I used them and I have been recommending them ever since. I know that they have great merit."

WASHINGTON AVENUE

C. Berry, 1111 Washington Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "Any little exertion made me tired and my back ached almost constantly. If I walked up town, I was exhausted and a steady ache across my loins was very disagreeable. For four or five months I was troubled in that way and I didn't know what was ailing me. Finally, I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, being told that no doubt the trouble came from my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills only a few days before I felt as well as ever. I am always glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and statements I have given heretofore have been correct."

N. WEBER STREET

Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh, 311 N. Weber St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and when I caught cold, it made them worse. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co. They made my kidneys normal and stopped the other troubles." (Statement given August 15, 1911.)

THE BENEFIT LABORED

On October 22, 1912, Mrs. Fitzhugh said: "I am glad to confirm the testimonial I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had little, if any, kidney complaint since."

DISCUSSION OF FOURTH TUNNEL STOPS FOR TIME

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 27.—The reports of the officers of the new large tunneling companies operating in this district are made at the annual stockholders' meetings which are scheduled to be held within the next two months there will be little enthusiasm or agitation in the way of securing additional funds for the fourth deep drainage tunnel. However, as the reports are made and the full force of the belief of the tunnel men are learned, then will be the time to look for donations for the new enterprise, which will cost $450,000 and require nine years to complete.

In the meantime the promoters of the new tunnel will not forget the scheme, and it is anticipated from the present encouraging news that actual work will commence inside of a year.

INCREASE PRODUCTION FROM THE VICTOR MINE

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 27.—Sixteen cars were shipped in December from the Victor mine, located on the east slope of Bull hill, by lessees Osberg and Price and a number of sub-lessees.

Figuring the production which has been made so far this month and estimating the probable tonnage for the balance of the month, it is well to figure that the total output for the month of January will be 25 cars. The grade of the ore sent from this property averages about an ounce.

Between four and six machines are employed at this time, some on development and some on ore. The main shaft is being mined on the eighth level, as well as the Miner surface strike, from which a steady production is being made.

The prospects for a regular production are very good and it is figured that the year of 1913 will show a better than the previous year. About 15 men are on the payroll at the Victor mine.

OPEN GOOD QUANTITY OF ORE IN GOLD DOLLAR

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 27.—In opening up the 900 or bottom level of the Gold Dollar mine, on Beacon hill, the development of the main shaft has been up to all expectations, and from it a steady production of good ore is being made. It is declared that the ore at this level has exceeded even the fondest hopes of any of the officials of that company.

Ed Martin, working in the main shaft, has the principal lease and is getting out about two cars a week at the present time.

SOON BEGIN SHIPPING FROM ARAPAHOE SHAFT

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 27.—From the Arapahoe shaft of the Jerry Johnson estate, operated by Harry Weed and associates, a shipment will be sent out about the first of the month, as the lessees are now working in ore. Recently Weed put on an electric hoist and has made all arrangements for the handling of the ore. The values are contained in a vein some three feet wide, and it is said they are fairly well diffused in the vein matter.

The ore was found after a little development work, including the running of a short crosscut. With Weed is associated several local business men.

The French Poets' society plans pensions for aged members.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Speculative interest was at low ebb today and the stock market was virtually in a state of suspended animation. The ticker was silent for minutes at a time, and fluctuations were so narrow that the record of the day's transactions disclosed little significance. During most of the day the list held steady at around Saturday's close. In the afternoon a heavier tone developed, but offerings were small, and the greater part of the active issues ended the session with only fractional changes.

The extreme dullness of the market during the morning was attributed to uncertainty whether the supreme court would have given today its long-awaited decision in the Minnesota rate case.

The Minnesota decision is only one of the events now hanging over the market which make for a waiting attitude. The outcome of the peace negotiations in London and the solution of the tangle which has arisen in the efforts to dissolve the Harriman merger will be the direct influence upon the securities market.

There was a slightly firmer tone in the local money market and a correspondingly easier tendency in foreign exchange rates. Call money touched 2 per cent, and in the time market there were loans for six months at 4 1/2 per cent, as against a recent bid of 4 per cent.

The bond market showed a declining tendency. Total sales, par value $1,540,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Local grain markets began the week black, brokers term it where there is but little trade, and not price changes were of the slightest. Provisions were firm, closing at the best prices of the day.

With indifferent cables, fair weather, heavy primary receipts, no demand for export and domestic spot in the oldrum, wheat dragged lower most of the session. Toward the close shorts covered on their visible demand and because they were uneasy as to the Balkan situation, and the market recovered to Saturday's closing level. Seaboard clearances were 331,000 and primary receipts 2,105,000 against 1,107,000 a year ago.

The narrow fluctuations of corn prices indicated a compromise between bulls and bears, for while the Argentine was still on the program, with its damage by sultry weather, the heavy primary receipts and slight demand, and a decline of grain in spot against the price. May closed 1/2c under Saturday.

Oats were all but stagnant, and the tone heavy with corn and on the per demand for spot. The sample market was 1/2c off.

What looked like investment buying advanced provision prices 7 1/2 to 20c, although hogs at the yards were easier, and in the time market. Poultry were credited with moderate sales.

"GYPSY LOVE" TONIGHT

No real lover of high-class music and real acting will venture to miss A. H. Woods' splendid production of the Franz Lehar comic opera, "Gypsy Love," at the Grand Opera House tonight. "Gypsy Love," by the composer of "The Merry Widow" and "The Count of Luxembourg," should attract Colorado Springs' most brilliant and appreciative audiences, for it comes with every promise of success practically guaranteed by the notably fine cast and the liberal manner in which Manager Woods is presenting it. It is no exaggeration to say that the magnificent Woods-Lehar comic opera has been the one bright musical hit of the past year, not only in America, but in London, as well. Phyllis Partington, already recognized as a beautiful and fascinating diva of exceptional attainments in both Europe and America, has already achieved a triumph in the prima donna role of Zorka. The leading tenor role of the Gypsy violinist will be sung by Arthur Albino, the Russian singer, who was specially imported for the part. Albino is often spoken of as the Caruso of the light opera stage. The story of "Gypsy Love" deals with a beautiful girl, Zorka, the daughter of a nobleman, who, on the eve of her marriage to a nobleman, is seduced by a gypsy violinist, who, in her own station of life, meets a gypsy violinist in the woods and is fascinated by his music. She plans to elope with him, but before doing so has a dream in which she sees into the future. The second act is supposed to be her dream, and in fancy she and the gypsy wander through the world unmarred, singing in cafes, dancing for the public and scorned by everyone. The climax comes when the gypsy is about to desert her, and here Zorka's dream ends. The third act shows the young girl awakening from her nightmarish dream, missing the gypsy and accepting the love of Mr. Woods, who has mounted the production lavishly, has engaged a large orchestra and has surrounded it with a strong company and a large and beautiful chorus who can sing and wear stunning gowns. Others in the large cast besides the gifted prima donna and the inspiring Russian tenor are Lucia, Lucy, Mona, Desmond, Lucie Mitchell, Mona, Mall, Phil, Brandon, Charles Fulton, Raymond Crane and Harry Harrison.

For the amount of money invested by A. H. Woods in the production of "Gypsy Love" a first-class business man in any big city could supply himself with a full year's stock of merchandise. Fully $75,000 is represented in the investment of the Lehar production, and this, together with the good music, singing and comedy and dancing, will make the display of the production a real success.

There is a story of a man who, during the past year, has been in the city of the Knickerbocker theater in New York, and during the subsequent and unusually successful engagement at the Illinois theater, Chicago, and in Boston and Philadelphia last season.

"The Siren" is a Venetian importation, the book being the joint work of Leo Stein and A. M. Willner and the music by Leo Fall. It is the unanimous opinion of the majority of critics that "The Siren" is about the best thing the Venetian theater has had to offer in recent years.

Mr. Brian will be seen in the role of a gay young marquis with a penchant for witty humorous

USE OF PAPYRUS

From the Wide World Magazine.

The Papyrus plant which once flourished in large quantities in Egypt, but is now almost extinct there, still abounds in the Jordan valley, as well as in the neighborhood of Jaffa, and Sidon. It grows best in a marshy soil, easily attaining a height of eight to ten feet. The stems of the plant, which are hollow, like bamboo, are leafless, and as thick as a man's arm at the lower part, tapering away to a point. This wood is used today in the east for a variety of purposes, both ornamental and useful. At Jaffa it is converted into canals, boxes, various articles of furniture, and even into boats. In ancient times, particularly when the Pharaohs reigned in Egypt, the papyrus was cultivated and converted into paper, and many museums can boast of specimens of these ancient papyrus manuscripts.

In 1912 United States railroad and industrial corporations have issued $1,779,022,000 in new securities, an increase of $250,000,000 over 1911.
